The Keystone band held a lawn fete concert in Frank's Park last evening which was well attended. Constable P. J. Ward, J. B. Orr and C. McEntee, of West Reynoldsville, have built additions to their residences. Grace Kernick, who makes her home at her sister, Mrs. James Blaney, fell from a porch Monday and fractured her ankle. W. H. Bell has opened an ice parlor at her residence on Main street where ice cream will be served for parties, picnics, etc. Ed Plyler, of Patton, brother-in-law of Wesley Motter of this place, died yesterday night. Mr. and Mrs. Motter and Patton yesterday to attend the funeral. Infant of Mr. and Mrs. David Hill, of Reynoldsville, was buried in the Baptist cemetery Wednesday afternoon. Rev. F. Reber, conducted the funeral services. Season tickets to various summer resorts in New York and other states, on sale at the B. R. & P. depot at this place on and after to-morrow the 1st. Schueckers, of West Reynoldsville, is employed on O'Donnell's ship. His nose broken one day last week, he is now being treated by a doctor flying off the planer on his way to the nose. THE STAR has been appointed delegate from the Pennsylvania Horticultural Association to attend the annual convention at Harrisburg, Pa., July 4-12. The annual convention of the People's Baptist Union of this county will be held in the Baptist church at Altoona, Pa., on Friday, June 15th. An interesting program has been prepared for the convention.

G. H. Uhlrig, jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the new superintendent of the silk mill in this place instead of Philippe Chavont, deceased.

A convocation of the Improved Order of Heptasophis will be organized at this place next Tuesday night, June 6th. G. A. Patton, Deputy Supreme Organizer, informs us that the convocation will start out with a membership of about fifty.

A break down on some of the machinery at Hopkins' large saw mill, near town, caused a three-day shut down last week. The mill has a large amount of work to do this season and four or five weeks have already been lost this spring by breakage on machinery.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a report of the Jefferson County Sunday School Association convention held in the M. E. church at this place last week. We are indebted to Miss Jessie Smeltzer, the young lady who made the address of welcome, for the report.

D. J. Thomas, register of East Winslow township, was in Brookville Monday to hand in his report to the county officials. Mr. Thomas found 686 voters in East Winslow and 1,301 children of school age. During the past six months there have been 20 deaths in that half of Winslow township and there were 105 children born.

Forest's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company was billed to give an entertainment at this place Monday evening under a big tent, but the heavy rain just before supper settled the show business under a tent for that evening and the show was given in the Reynolds opera house. Notwithstanding the wet evening, old play, etc., the company was given a fair sized audience.

R. A. Kirkpatrick, a woodsman who was employed on J. E. Mulholland's log job near Panic, cut one toe off his right foot and split another toe with an ax one day last week while at work in the woods. The ax caught on the limb of a tree. Mr. Kirkpatrick was at Clark's restaurant, in this place, until Monday and then he went to his home in DuBois.

Millirens, the clothiers, who are agents for the Kane Steam Laundry, have the noblest delivery outfit to be found anywhere, including the large cities. The wagon is up-to-date in every respect and is painted and lettered in first-class style. A new set of yellow harness adorns the high spirited, dark colored, high stepper that is used to haul the delivery wagon. Such turnouts are a credit to the town.

D. W. Atwater and Herbert Burns, who will have a steam laundry in operation at this place before many weeks, mention of which was made last week, have rented rooms near the corner of Fourth and Grant streets from Frank Hoffman. Messrs. Atwater and Burns have engaged an experienced laundryman, who will have charge of the laundry. They expect to put in a first-class plant and turn out good work.

Phillip Taylor has been seen on the streets frequently the past week with a black eye, one side of his face bruised, in fact looking very much as if he had been a participant in a pugilistic affair, but any person that got such an impression from his appearance is mistaken. Mr. Taylor was accidentally thrown out of a buggy and one of the wheels of the vehicle ran over his head, and that's the whyfore of his black eye and bruised face.

The fifth reunion of the Freas family will be held at the residence of S. M. Gourley, near this place, on Wednesday next week. There are four brothers and four sisters in this family, as follows: Mrs. William Jordan, of Punxsutawney, Mrs. Benjamin J. Sykes, of Troutville, Mrs. Henry Lewis, of Frostburg, Mrs. S. M. Gourley, of this place, C. H. Freas, former editor of Falls Creek Sun, P. O. Freas, of Punxsutawney, Joseph Freas, who lives on the old homestead near Zion Church, and W. C. Freas, of Troutville. These family reunions are very enjoyable occasions.

Two weeks ago we mentioned that A. T. McClure, of the Reynoldsville Hardware Co., had gone to Carthage, Mo., on a business trip, but did not state the nature of his business. Mr. McClure, J. Van Reed, Francis Smith, G. J. Corwin and J. J. Sutter, all business men of this place, got interested in the lead and zinc mining territory at Cartersville, Mo., and Mr. McClure made the trip into Missouri to look over the district and see about leasing some land. He leased two lots containing 250 square feet. Shafts are put down to the depth of 165 feet. It is a very rich field and our townsmen will certainly make some money out of it.

An excursion train was run from Rathmel and Reynoldsville to Punxsutawney Sunday afternoon over the B. R. & P. Ry at the request of members of the Masonic order in this place, to give them an opportunity to be present at the laying of the corner stone for the new M. E. church at Punxsutawney, the exercises being in charge of the Masonic order. Wilson I. Fleming, district deputy grand master, of Bellefonte, assisted by Bishop Fowler and Rev. Dodds, pastor of the Punxsutawney M. E. congregation, conducted the ceremonies. About one hundred people, including the Keystone band, went on the excursion train from this place.

Our Boys Defeated Clarion.

The Reynoldsville ball club drove to Clarion yesterday and defeated Clarion's crack club in a hotly contested game of ball. Our boys put up a fine game. Score 10-7.

Postmaster Appointed.

A postoffice will soon be established at Big Soldier. John M. Carroll, head clerk in the Jefferson Supply Co. store, has received the appointment as postmaster. The new office will be called Soldier.

Compressed Air Pump.

Alex Riston, the cigar manufacturer and bicycle dealer, has put in a compressed air pump in front of his store and bicycle riders, who need to have their tires blown up, will always find it "loaded." All they will have to do will be to take off the valve cap, attach the tubing, turn a valve and the tire will be full of wind in a "jiffy," and it don't cost a cent. A hundred pound pressure tank has been set up in the store and from this the air is piped out to the street.

Accidentally Shot.

James Delaney, the barber, was out the other day shooting muskrats in the Sandy Lick creek, near No. 1 bridge on A. V. Ry, when a peculiar accident happened. Two young ladies and several small boys were passing by on the high embankment across the creek from Mr. Delaney and they stopped a few minutes to watch the shooting and one of the young ladies, Miss Blanche Smith, was shot below the left knee. The only way it can be accounted for is that the ball, a twenty-two calibre, struck a stone and glanced up the hill. The young lady walked home, a doctor was summoned and he probed for the ball but was unable to find it.

A Drop in Real Estate.

Thursday forenoon John Spears was plowing on the old Saxton farm, near town, when the ground gave away under the hind legs of one of his horses. The animal was a quiet one and with assistance Mr. Spears was able to prevent the horse from falling into the hole, which was fifteen feet deep. The coal has been mined from under the farm and the earth was so nearly ready to sink that the weight of the horse as it walked over caused it to give away. Had the ground sunk a trifle sooner the one horse would have gone down with it and pulled the other animal in, and the result might have been serious to the team.

Local Organization.

At the Jefferson County Sunday School Association convention held in this place last week it was decided to organize a local Sunday School Association, which would embrace the schools of this borough and Winslow township. A committee was appointed by the convention to nominate officers for the new association, and on Wednesday evening the committee made the following nominations and the persons named were unanimously elected by the convention: President, Rev. W. F. Reber; vice-president, George Rea; secretary, Miss Eleanor Reed; treasurer, John McPherson; executive committee, Thomas Gulliford, John Bowser, G. W. Palen.

Returned to Washington County.

Smith M. McCreight, who moved from Washington county, Pa., to Prescottville five years ago to take charge of the McCreight grist mill, has moved back to Washington county, leaving here the first of this week. The mill work seemed to be injurious to Mr. McCreight's health and he decided to return to farm life. Mr. McCreight is a pleasant and accommodating gentleman with whom it was a pleasure to do business, and his many friends were sorry to see him depart from this section. Edward McCreight, who has had considerable experience under the tutelage of his uncle, Smith McCreight, will have charge of the Prescottville grist mill.

An Exciting Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon as Arthur Barkley was driving the Adams Express team up Main street, with the mail from the 1:40 P. M. train, the tongue of the wagon dropped out of the neckyoke when the wagon struck the raised crossing at Centennial hall. The horses became frightened and started to run. The tongue broke off leaving a piece just long enough to jab the horses around the hind legs and that made them run all the faster. Arthur remained in the wagon and hung to the lines. In front of Wm. Foster's confectionery Dr. Neale's horse and buggy were standing and the express wagon struck the rear part of the buggy, totally demolishing one wheel and otherwise damaging the buggy. The team kept so close to the sidewalk that they just missed the telephone pole at corner of Main and Fifth streets. The wagon very nearly upset in front of Mrs. Taafe's millinery store. Arthur was unable to stop the team until they got to the Presbyterian church. Those who saw the runaway expected Arthur to be badly injured or killed, but he escaped without a scratch. The broken tongue and nothing left of one hind wheel but the hub, was all the damage to express wagon. The horses were considerably lacerated from the broken tongue jabbing them.

Death From Childbirth.

Mrs. Thomas C. McEntee, a highly respected lady of West Reynoldsville, died at her home at 12:50 P. M. Friday, May 26th, from premature childbirth. The news of her death was a great surprise and shock to her numerous friends. About midnight she took ill and a doctor was called who remained with her until 4:00 A. M., when she seemed to be better. At 6:00 A. M. she grew worse and the doctor was called again and he found her in a critical condition. Two other physicians were called and everything possible was done to save her life, but the efforts were unsuccessful and her lamp of life went out.

The deceased was born in England June 6th, 1864, and would have been 35 years old the 6th of next month. Her parents moved to Reynoldsville in 1873, when Mary was a little girl. May 12th, 1886, Miss Mary was united in marriage to T. C. McEntee, who with one daughter and four sons mourn for the loved one that has gone to the Eternal Land.

At 9:00 A. M. Monday the remains of Mrs. McEntee were taken to the Catholic church where funeral services were conducted by Father Geister, after which the interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

The deceased was a devout and faithful member of the Catholic church, a member of the Altar and Rosary Societies of the church, was a kind and affectionate wife and a loving mother. Those who were well acquainted with Mrs. McEntee could have nothing but kind words to say about her.

The floral tributes were elaborate and beautiful. The employees in Supt. Ramsey's office, where Mr. McEntee is employed as train dispatcher, furnished the pillow of flowers and the other floral pieces, including one with the words, "Our Sister," on it, were furnished by relatives.

The following out of town people attended the funeral, which was a very large one: William Burke and family of Pittsburg, Miles Walsh and family of Hawthorne, M. J. McEntee and wife and daughter, Miss Irene, of Driftwood, William McEntee and wife and two sons, Thomas and William, Jr., of Kane, Mrs. J. L. Murphy, of Johnsonburg, John D. Murphy of Rolfe, Mrs. M. J. Gleason and Mrs. William Collins of New Bethlehem, Charles Gleason of Bradford, Wm. Gannon of Olean, N. Y., and Miss Kate O'Brien of DuBois.

Phillippe Chavent Dead.

Phillippe Chavent, who came here last year when the silk mill was ready for the machinery, to fill the position of superintendent of the mill, died at the residence of James Orr, in West Reynoldsville, last Wednesday evening. Death was the result of pneumonia. Mr. Chavent was born at Lyons, France, on the 23rd day of May, 1850, making him 49 years old the day before he died. He was a master in the silk trade and could handle silk in all its branches. He graduated in the Textile School at Lyons, France. Mr. Chavent came to America in 1887 and his first position as superintendent of a silk mill in this country was at Wilkesbarre, Pa., for J. Hess & Co. After that he was superintendent of silk mills at the following places: Two different mills at Patterson, N. J., one mill at Scranton, Pa., Union Hill, N. J., Summit, N. J., and Watessing, N. J. From the latter place Mr. Chavent came to Reynoldsville. He has a wife, son and daughter living at Union Hill, N. J. Friday afternoon the son, Anthony Chavent, aged about nineteen years, came here and had the body shipped by express to Union Hill for burial. The son went from this place to Pittsburg Saturday afternoon to transact some business in the "Smoky City." We understand that Mr. Chavent had not been living with his family for a number of years, but he educated the son and daughter.

Mr. Chavent had been having lung trouble for over five years. He had three attacks of pneumonia after coming to Reynoldsville, but the third one proved fatal and ended his earthly career. The deceased was well educated and kept posted on the topics of the day in general, but in silk mill matters particularly.

Climbed a High Mt.

D. M. Dunsmore, train master on A. V. Ry, and M. E. Wood, clerk in the A. V. Ry superintendent's office at this place, gathered up their fishing tackle the first of last week and bled away to Hicks Run, Elk county, to spend a couple of days in piscatorial sport. After catching all the trout in Hicks Run—but what escaped their hooks—they decided to cross Mt. Hicks to try their luck in Mix Run, and oh! what a climb. Just think of climbing an almost perpendicular mountain 15,000 feet high (so says Mr. Dunsmore) with a camping-out paraphernalia on your back, and you will have some idea of the troubles and tribulations they had to go through. When half way up the mountain Mr. Dunsmore found his burden too heavy and he threw out a loaf of bread and a half dozen eggs. A little farther up the steep several pounds of cheese and some crackers were scattered over the mountain side to lighten the pack, and thus things were thrown away so that when they finally reached the summit their supply of eatables were scattered all along the trail. When these two gentlemen climb Mount Hick again they will be older than they are now.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY AND DECORATION DAY SERVICES!

Dr. C. C. Rumberger Delivered the Annual Sermon—Parade and Soldiers' Graves Decorated.

The Methodist Episcopal church was filled to overflowing Sunday morning by persons anxious to hear the annual memorial sermon, which was delivered by Dr. C. C. Rumberger, pastor of the M. E. church. Seats were reserved for the soldiers and five minutes before the hour of services, 11:00 A. M., the old soldiers, Sons of Veterans and members of the Woman's Relief Corps marched into the church. The church had been beautifully decorated with flowers and flags for the special occasion. On the wall back of the pulpit an immense flag had been formed into an anchor. After the opening hymn Rev. J. C. McEntee led in prayer. After another patriotic song Rev. A. E. Hooper, of the Baptist church, read a scripture lesson. Again the large audience joined in singing and then Dr. Rumberger announced his text, "And this day shall be unto you a memorial," Exodus 12:5. The decorations, the presence of the old veterans and the large audience inspired Dr. Rumberger and he delivered an able address, one that was appropriate for the memorial occasion. The speaker did not forget to pay a tribute to the living as well as the dead soldiers. The address was listened to very attentively.

DR. C. C. RUMBERGER.

DECORATION DAY. "On father's eternal camping ground Their silent tents are spread And glory guards with solemn round The bivouac of the dead."

Decoration Day was observed in this place in about the customary manner. The Sunday schools, Keystone band, secret societies, G. A. R. Post and Sons of Veterans formed in line on Main street at 9:00 A. M. and marched to Beulah cemetery where the usual Grand Army ceremonies were performed. In the afternoon squads from the S. of V. Camp went to the other cemeteries where soldiers are buried and bedecked their graves with beautiful flowers.

At Rathmel the day was observed under the auspices of the P. O. S. of A. Camp at that place. An extensive program had been prepared for the occasion. Part of the program was given in the Prospect cemetery in the afternoon and the remainder was given in the P. O. S. of A. hall. A large crowd was present. An entertainment was given in the P. O. S. of A. hall in the evening.

The patriotic citizens of Bechwoods did not forget Decoration Day. A very large crowd attended the ceremonies up there. Judge Reed delivered the oration.

Mrs. J. C. Ferris Dead.

Mrs. Julius C. Ferris died at her home in this place at 11:20 P. M. Monday, May 29th, from consumption. She had been confined to her bed almost continuously for one year. Four years ago this month she was operated on in the Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, for cancer. Her entire left breast was removed at that time. The deceased was born at Emersville September 22, 1857, and would have been 42 years old at her next birthday. Her maiden name was Ella F. Emerick, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Emerick. January 1, 1880, she was married to J. C. Ferris in Emersville. Three sons were born unto them, two of whom preceded the mother into the Haven of Rest. One son, Leon D., and the husband survive the deceased. Mrs. Ferris was a patient sufferer and was not afraid of death. Funeral services will be held at the residence at 2:00 P. M. this afternoon, conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. F. Reber, of the Presbyterian church. Interment will be made in Beulah cemetery. Mrs. Ferris was a member of the Daughters of Rebekah and it is quite likely that society will attend the funeral in a body.

New B. R. & P. Ry Depot.

Bids are now being received for the erection of the new B. R. & P. Ry depot in this place. It will be built at foot of Fourth street. The building will be 25x60 feet, one story high, with departments as follows: Ladies' waiting room 14x24; gents' waiting room 14x24; ticket office 10x13; freight room 24x26 feet. There will be two toilet rooms in the depot. It is expected that the contract will be let in a few days. This is one of the improvements that has been badly needed for a year or two.

Rev. W. F. Reber, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was at Natrona, Pa., near Pittsburg, over Sunday filling Rev. Cherry's pulpit, and as a consequence there were no preaching services in the Presbyterian church in this place Sunday.

Miss Ida Reynolds left here Thursday to visit with relatives at Silgo, Kittanning and Worthington. One reason for making the visit at this time was on account of the serious illness of her uncle, Steve Ross at Worthington. Mr. Ross had a stroke of paralysis.

F. P. Strickland, of Hopkins, went to Howard, Pa., Saturday to remain over Decoration Day with his widowed mother. Mr. Strickland's father is numbered with the soldiers who are buried in the cemetery at Howard and he likes to join his mother in strewing flowers on the grave of the departed on Memorial Day.

Getting Limbered Up.

Engine No. 192, one of the big passenger engines built especially to haul through fast trains over the B. R. & P. Ry from Buffalo to Pittsburg when the new road is completed, has been hauling the B. R. & P. passenger trains to this place the past few days. The engine is used on this run to get her joints limbered up so she will be ready for service when the through trains are put on. The engine weighs seventy-one tons. It looks large enough to haul eight or ten Pullman cars fifty miles an hour with ease.

There Shall be War!

Rev. J. Booth will preach a sermon to old soldiers at the Baptist church, Prescottville, next Sunday at 3:30 P. M. Text, Math. 10:34. "Think not that I am come to send peace on earth; I came not to send peace but a sword." Rev. Booth will mention the names of all who went from this section to the war, and refer briefly to each one of them. Rev. Booth is an old citizen and an old soldier and will, no doubt, give an interesting address.

Household Economy.

One of the strong points of the Cinderella Range is its cleanliness and economy. It has an extra deep ash pit, with balled ash pan, and is so constructed that the ashes cannot accumulate under the grate, which is the chief cause of so many grates burning out. Sold and guaranteed by Reynoldsville Hardware Company.
